Russian Army Is Girded for Battle, Red General Says

MOSCOW, Oct. 10 (AP) — Marshal Alexander M. Vasilevsky says changes in organization, supply and equipment of the Soviet army have "sharply increased its battle potentialities."

The army is equipped with modern weapons and is in constant battle readiness, the Soviet war minister told the All-Union Communist Party congress in a speech Tuesday that was printed in full only today.

PUBLICITY IS PREJUDICIAL, US COURT SAYS

BOSTON, Oct. 10 (AP) — The US Court of Appeals set aside today the conviction of ousted Internal Revenue Collector Denis W. Delaney because he was forced to stand trial in "the hostile atmosphere engendered by all the publicity."

The 58-year-old former collector, convicted in January of accepting bribes and falsifying tax returns. He was given a two-year sentence and fined $10,500.

The decision of the court of appeals leaves it to the Attorney General whether a new trial will be ordered. In Washington, Attorney General McGranery said: "We are waiting for a copy of the opinion. Until we see the opinion and analyze it, we will not make our decision."

Delaney, out on $2500 bail, said: "This news overjoys me. I never did a criminal act in my life. I welcome a new trial."

THE PUBLICITY which preceded the trial in Boston came in part from newspaper coverage of earnings in Washington by a congressional subcommittee. The conduct of the deposed collector and numerous accusations against him were heard by the committee after its indictment.

Today's opinion was written by Judge Calvert Magruder and concurred in by Judges Peter Woodbury and John P. Hartigan. It said in part:

"If the United States through its legislative department chooses to hold a public hearing inevitably resulting in much damaging publicity prejudicial to a person awaiting trial on a pending indictment, then the United States must accept the consequence that the judicial department, charged with the duty of assuring the defendant a fair trial before an impartial jury, may

Gilbertsville Boy, 6, May Be Polio Victim

A 6-year-old Gilbertsville boy is in Montgomery hospital with a possible mild attack of polio, it was reported yesterday.

Keener Moyer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Keener Moyer, Gilbertsville RD 1, was admitted to the hospital Thursday night after a preliminary diagnosis made by Dr. Ames I. Wendell Jr., Pottstown physician, indicated presence of the disease.

Dr. Wendell made the examination Thursday afternoon at Memorial hospital. A spinal tap led him to diagnose the mild case of polio.

Since Memorial hospital has no isolation ward, Keener was transferred to Montgomery hospital for treatment although it has not yet been definitely determined whether he has polio.

To date there have been 85 cases of polio in Montgomery county not including the Gilbertsville boy's possible attack.

Honored by His Friends

Alfred H. Haas (seated) grins as Toastmaster S. Paul Seeders (at microphone) tells one of the anecdotes which regaled 333 members and guests of the Pottstown Good Fellowship club at a testimonial dinner for Haas in the Elks home last night. Haas was honored as the only 33d degree Mason in Pottstown. He was awarded the degree the past Sept. 24. His brother, George (left), and John J. Kessler, a member of the dinner committee, listen with Haas. The four are members of Pottstown Stichter lodge 254, F and AM.

33d Degree Mason Moved by Reception

His voice was well-modulated, but Alfred H. Haas barely could conceal the emotion within him last night as he thanked his fellow members of the Good Fellowship club and guests of the club for honoring him as Pottstown's only 33d degree Mason.

His hands clasped tightly behind him as he surveyed the 332 faces before him in the Elks home at the club's testimonial dinner for him, he barely could utter:

"Thank you, a thousand times thank you, each and every one of you."

He never thought he would "be in such a predicament," the 62-year-old electrician from 30 West Fifth street said. "I am filled up with gratitude. There are only two words to express my appreciation and they are inadequate."

"Thanks, thanks. God bless you all," he said. Then he sat before the tears of emotional strain rolled to his eyes as they did for his brother, George, who presented the 33d Degree Mason's bejeweled medal to him moments earlier.

HAAS HAD been elected to the degree the past Sept. 24 at the 140th annual meeting of the supreme council, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite Mason of the North-

Boy's Condition 'Good' After Fall From Slide

Terry Davis, 6, of 1425 Cherry lane, was admitted to Memorial hospital yesterday after he was injured in a playground accident at the Rupert school, South Mt. Vernon streets.

The youth fell and struck his head while using a slide on the school playground.

A hospital spokesman last night said his condition was "good."

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence K. Davis.

Rev. Nyce to Observe His 83d Birthday Tomorrow; Brethren Pastor Still Active

REV. WILLIAM G. NYCE

The Rev. William G. Nyce, pastor of Harmonyville Church of the Brethren, who is one of the oldest active clergymen in Pennsylvania, or the United States, for that matter, will celebrate his 83d birthday tomorrow.

Except that he gave up driving a car the past Summer ("too many fast drivers," he told his wife), he is just about as active as ever.

Every other Sunday, he preaches in his church, although tomorrow the sermon will be delivered by the assistant pastor, the Rev. Gerald O'Donnell.

The 83-year-old pastor still will be inducted into the service on works in his garden almost every day, raising a big gardenful of dahlias and smaller numbers of perennials.

Badly-Burned Child Reported Improving

Four-year-old Tommy Rhoads, 414 Jefferson avenue, who had burns of the face and left arm in a bedroom fire at his home Thursday, was "doing very well" in Pottstown hospital yesterday.

Borough Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer reported the boy's playfulness with matches had set a mattress afire. The boy was carried down a ladder by Henry Leclerc, Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company member.

29 Face Induction

Twenty-nine Pottstown area men—the largest group in four years—will be inducted into the service on Oct. 21.

The group which makes up the quota of Local Board 110, will report at the local office at 6 o'clock the morning of the 21st. They will travel by bus to Philadelphia for induction.

WOMAN HURTS SHOULDER, CUTS WRIST IN FALL

A Pottstown woman suffered a dislocated shoulder and three cuts about the wrist late yesterday afternoon when she fell against a window in her home while holding her grandson in her arms.

Mrs. Mary Swavely, 61, of 347 Bech street, was the victim. The grandson, David Michael Swavely, 10-months, fell to the floor when the woman fell but was apparently uninjured.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Swavely stepped on a throw rug, which slipped on the polished floor, causing her to lose her balance. She had picked the baby up to show him the street scene outside the window in the front door when she slipped and her left arm crashed through the glass.

The woman's daughter, Mrs. Russell A. Swavely, called the Good Will ambulance.

When William Tosto, driver of the ambulance, entered the house, he found the injured woman bending over the sink in the kitchen in a dazed condition, trying to stop the flow of blood from her wrist.

Tosto bandaged the woman's wrist applied an elbow splint and administered aromatic spirits before taking her to the Pottstown hospital at 5 p. m.

Dr. Claude B. Lerch Pottstown physician, treated the patient at the hospital.

X-rays revealed no broken bones. The doctor also examined the baby at Mrs. Swavely's home.

More than 400 persons are expected to attend the affair. Music at dinner which begins at 5 p. m. will be played by the Raymond Elliott string ensemble.

Following dinner there will be a concert by the Pottstown band of more than 50 pieces including the glee club.

Kenneth Nichols will act as toastmaster for the occasion, introducing some of the old-timers who have been members of the organization for many years.

The festivities will end with a dance with music furnished by three 15-piece bands. All the members of the bands will be members of the Local of Musicians (AFL), is holding a celebration commemorating 50 years of its existence at Maria Assunta lodge.

THE TELEGRAM also noted that his award would be part of the announcement to be made nationally by Dr. Edgar J. Goodspeed, internationally-known American translator of the Bible, and Roscoe Pound, former dean of Harvard university's law school.

The award marked the first time in recent years that a Pottstown area clergyman had been reported as winning such an honor.

For Dr. Schorsch, this was the first time he had entered the competition, although year after year he had been invited to do so, as had most US clergymen.

The competition was for sermons on an Independence Day theme. What prompted Dr.

FIRE CAUSES $25,000 LOSS IN ROYERSFORD

A sudden blaze at the Royersford Foundry and Machine company, First avenue and Main street, Royersford, last night about 10:20 o'clock caused an estimated $25,000 in damages to the foundry building.

Five fire companies from the area arrived at the scene of the fire about four minutes after the flames were discovered and trained seven hoses on the foundry, getting the fire under control in about an hour.

The fire of undetermined origin broke out in a storeroom of the 150 by 75-foot building. The storeroom is adjacent to the foundry room.

When the men of the Royersford Humane, Royersford Fire Hook and Ladder, Spring City Liberty, Linfield and Trappe fire companies arrived, the roof and sides of the storeroom were blazing fiercely.

J. Carroll Deisher, president of the company, said, "The fire companies did a wonderful job. It looked like the whole building was going."

DEISHER REPORTED the damage was covered entirely by insurance. He said the foundry will be out of operation for at least two months and the 30 men employed there would be out of work during that time. The company employs about 100 men in two buildings.

The company president added that the men also were covered by insurance in such an emergency. The fire companies drove the flames back from the foundry section.

A Reading man was killed and 10 workmen injured, four seriously, yesterday afternoon on a Birdsboro construction project when the heavy boom on a crane climbed wildly out of control.

Among those seriously injured was James L. Gorton, 31, of 233 Shaner street, Boyertown. The accident occurred on the huge construction project of Valley Forge associates in a muddy pit on a vast field. Valley Forge associates, primary contractor on the job, are constructing the 17-acre sprawling ordnance plant for the Army Engineering corps.

At approximately 4 o'clock the long, black steel boom on the orange cab crane suddenly reared to an upright position, hung ominously in the air for a matter of seconds and crashed backward onto the cab roof and dropped into the 14-foot pit where men were working.

The crane had been headed with its front and boom facing away from the pit. George M. Dillingham, project executive for Valley Forge associates said there is no known reason why the crane suddenly reared out of control.

THE POWER of the crane motor snapped the heavy boom like a match stick and cables running along the boom broke like rubber bands.

The heavy clamshell suspended from the boom's end killed instantly Oscar Williams, 21, of Reading.

Williams was digging with a small shovel in the pit when he was pinned in the mud.

Gorton and three others were taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Reading, in the Birdsboro and Reading Hose ambulances.

Gorton suffered fractured ribs and possible internal injuries.

Also taken to the hospital were John Longlitt, 26, Reading, fractured ribs and a possible fractured right shoulder; Edward Murton, 21, Temple, fractured back; Irwin Schaeffer, 69, Reading, possible head injuries and a fractured right shoulder.

Workmen were excavating for a quench tank when the crane made its fatal stab. At the bottom of the pit forms were being prepared for the concrete tank which will be filled with water and used in the process of making

Population Boost on the Way—Borough's Birth Rate's Rising

Pottstown area's birth rate this year is breaking all records wide open.

This was reported yesterday by Hayden H. Bushey, Pottstown's registrar for the State bureau of vital statistics, who combed through ten years of records for his proof.

During the past month, there were 154 babies born in Pottstown and Memorial hospitals. The nearest thing to this mark was a total of 136 reached several years ago. The past August also brought a high total, 125.

Bushey said, "That gives us, up to Oct. 1, a total of 1100 births in our hospitals for this year in nine months. I think that's a record, too."

Compared to the 279 births of the past two months, there were only 58 deaths. 30 of them the past month. This is a low, but not a record low, he reported.

Some people who were out most of the day said they felt some precipitation, but only a trace.

A light shower about midnight came too late to spoil the evening for most.

Today will be about the same as yesterday, with comfortable temperatures in the 60s, and a few more friendly clouds.

RABBI SCHORSCH IS HONORED FOR HIS SERMON

Dr. Emil Schorsch, rabbi of Mercy and Truth synagogue, has been awarded a major prize in a nation-wide sermon competition, it was announced yesterday.

He received a telegram yesterday morning from Los Angeles, Calif., from James W. Fifield Jr., president of Spiritual Mobilization, a nationwide organization that includes many of America's outstanding religious and civic leaders.

The telegram said in part: "Warmest congratulations on your sermon awarded Reward of Merit and $50 in Spiritual Mobilization's nationwide sermon competition."

"Thank you for helping to make our annual 'Freedom Under God' observance of Independence Week an occasion of deeper spiritual significance."

THE TELEGRAM also noted that his award would be part of the announcement to be made nationally by Dr. Edgar J. Goodspeed, internationally-known American translator of the Bible, and Roscoe Pound, former dean of Harvard university's law school.

Price Supports For Feed Grains To Climb in '53

Price support levels for 1953-crop feed grains will be a little higher than in 1952, Clyde A. Zehner, chairman of the State Production and Marketing Administration committee, has announced.

Supports recently set for oats, barley, rye, and grain sorghums of the 1953 crop are the equivalent of 85 percent of parity, compared with a 1952 support level of 80 percent. This higher level of support is designed to assure adequate supplies of feed grains for livestock production. The proper price relationships with corn, the leading feed grain, were considered in setting supports for the four crops.

The following national average price support rates for grains to be harvested in 1953 have been announced: Oats, 80 cents per bushel for Grade No. 3 or better; barley, $1.24 per bushel for No. 2 or better (except "mixed" barley); Rye, $1.43 per bushel for No. 2 or better or No. 3 on test weight factor only but otherwise grading No. 2; grain sorghums, $2.43 per cwt., for No. 2 or better (except "mixed" grain sorghums).

Supports for 1952 grains are at national averages of 78 cents a bushel for Oats, $1.22 a bushel for Barley, $1.42 a bushel for Rye, and $2.38 per cwt. for grain sorghums. As in former years, the 1953 supports will be carried out through Commodity Credit Corporation farm- and warehouse-storage loans, and purchase agreements. Both loans and purchase agreements will be available through offices of the PMA County committees.

State Will Improve Exhibition Building

HARRISBURG, Oct. 10 (AP)—The State farm show commission this week approved in principle proposals made by a joint farm show committee for improvements and possible additions to the 13-acre exhibition building here.

Miles Horst, commission chairman said action for rearrangements and possible addition of a three-story wing to the structure will be implemented by getting cost estimates on alterations and additions as soon as possible.

The proposals, made by a joint committee of the farm show commission and farm show commission, called for a three-story building with a minimum of 40,000 square feet per floor.

The proposed building would incorporate eating facilities, dormitories for 4-H and vocational club children, and facilities for display of home economics and other educational exhibits.

PREMIER CORN CRIBS

Increase the quality and feeding value of corn or hay by proper storing in a corn crib. Prevent losses due to fire caused by spontaneous combustion. This all-steel, prefabricated-at-factory corn crib is an economical answer to the demand for additional crib space. Fabricated from angle and bar steel in a sturdy, rigid, long-lasting structure.

Ideal for farm operators who find it necessary to move crib location periodically, yet lends itself to a permanent installation. This new type of steel-ribbed construction gives feed protection against the weather and provides ample ventilation for curing and drying.

Heavy gauge galvanized steel roof ventilator is furnished, and ventilator sections as well as drag tunnel are available when wanted.

When shelling corn, most of the screenings, otherwise necessary, may be eliminated by placing the sheller drags in the ventilating channel, if used.

Cribs may also be used for small grains such as oats, beans, corn, etc. by lining inside with Sisakraft paper. Not more than 1000 bushels of small grain should be stored in any size crib.

Most Famous Cow Dies at 19; To Be Honored

Penn State's most famous cow died last week to end a record of historic proportions. Penn State's Veeman Josie held the record for three years as the greatest living milk producer in the nation.

And now her final milk record will read—257,778 pounds of milk and 8187 pounds of butterfat. Josie would have been 20 years old next January. However, she had been officially retired from the college herd the past January, but she continued production until the past May. This was about three times the age of the average cow in production.

Even without Josie, the huge cow family which she headed will continue to pile up new records for her. Her family includes about 50 direct female descendants and the seventh generation is now in milk.

Josie's death broke up one of the first three-generation trio of cows ever classified as excellent by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. This trio was one of the outstanding producing groups of its kind.

Dr. D. V. Josephson, head of Penn State's dairy department, says that a permanent plaque will be placed in the walls of the new dairy barns beside a large photograph of Josie.

William J. Fisher of the Oliver Corporation, York, was elected president of the farm equipment institute this week. He succeeds Herbert B. Megrin of Harvard, Ill.

Alva W. Phelps of Chicago, Ill., was elected to replace Fisher as the executive committee chairman at the Institute's 59th annual meeting in the Claridge hotel. Robert A. Jones, Chicago, was re-elected executive secretary.

Dutch Farm Owners Profit By Field Trip Through US

Technical assistance trips to the U.S. are paying off, Dutch farmers find.

Members of Dutch productivity teams, which have visited American farms and factories during the past few years under the Technical Assistance program of the former Economic Co-operation administration, now the Mutual Security Agency, have applied American techniques after their return to Holland to their own agricultural and research projects — and with profit.

Piet Oosterveld, manager of the "Overijssel" experiment farm in Heino, was a participant in a commission studying "farm management and work simplification" in the U.S. After a two months' study tour, visiting agricultural colleges in Indiana, Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, New York, Vermont and Maryland, he returned to his experiment farm in Heino and succeeded in achieving an annual saving of five thousand guilders through introducing modern American planning methods.

Oosterveld also introduced on his farm so-called "pig breeders," in which pigs are kept under a constant temperature and radiation. The result was that the death rate of his pigs decreased while their growth was accelerated. Now about 100 farms in the Heino area are using the American-type pig breeders.

The results achieved on his experiment farm are the more important because it is visited by about five thousand Dutch farmers annually. Another Dutch farmer who greatly profited by the experience gained on his trip to the U.S. is Barend Zinkweg, of Numansdorp, a member of a team studying "polato production, processing and marketing."

HIS EXPERIENCES in Nebraska, California, Idaho and Maine potatoes, taught him to solve the problem of storing potatoes at home. At his initiative eight new American-type potato storehouses were built in the neighborhood of Numansdorp.

Through the introduction of the American method, Zinkweg's potato stores have achieved 10 percent saving on over-all costs and, through the new isolation and ventilation method, a 10 percent reduction in the loss of weight of the potatoes.

Club Will Be Briefed On National Elections

A speaker from the Women's League of Voters, Berks county, will speak to members of the Boyertown Junior Woman's club at its meeting Monday at 8 p. m. in the Community center, 314 West Philadelphia avenue, Boyertown.

The speaker will talk on the presidential election.

The meeting will be directed by the Public Welfare division. Mrs. George Hertzog chairman. Daisy DelGrosso, president, will conduct the business portion of the meeting.

The 1950 U. S. census showed 1,430,000 more females than males in the population, the first time in history that women had outnumbered men in the nation.

Boyertown Junior Woman's Club Completes Plans for Holiday Ball

Plans have been formulated for the annual Holiday Ball, sponsored by the Boyertown Junior Woman's club to be held Dec. 5 at the Boyertown Orioles' home Fourth and Washington streets.

Various Boyertown organizations met with officers of the Junior club Wednesday night at the Orioles' home to establish entrance rules.

Candidates, to seek the queen's crown, must supply proof they are 19 years of age or older. They may be single or married and must be a Boyertown area resident. She must supply her own evening gown. The deadline for entry is Oct. 31.

Borough organizations and their representatives were: Friendship Hook and Ladder company, Herbert S. Schultz; Lions club, John A. Houck; Junior Chamber of Commerce, Perce DelGrosso; Charles B. Yergler Post 471, American Legion, commander R. A. C. Bodv and vice commander, Edward Conrad; Orioles, Paul Spohn and Rotary club, Ralph S. DeTurk.

Representing the sponsoring Junior Woman's club were the ways and means co-chairmen, Mrs. Carl Cleaver and Mrs. H. Douglas Rose, club president Daisy DelGrosso and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edward Sokolowski.

Fritz Calls Meeting In Advance of Test

Burgess James A. Fritz yesterday called for a special meeting of civilian defense auxiliary policemen for Monday at 8 p. m. in the Town hall.

Burgess Fritz stated the reason for the meeting was to receive last minute instructions prior to the State-wide air raid alert test Wednesday at 1:50 p. m.

The primary purpose of the test is to bring all non-essential activities to a halt and have the public "take cover."

Burgess Fritz, Civil Defense Co-ordinator for Boyertown, has requested all residents to co-operate with civil defense policemen.

PENN, TIGERS VIE FOR IVY LEAGUE TITLE

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 10 (AP)—The longest winning streak in major college football and probably the 1952 Ivy League championship go on the block tomorrow when Pennsylvania and Princeton clash for the 45th time since 1876 in Ivy-draped Palmer Stadium.

A capacity crowd of 49,258—every last seat was sold early this week—will see the Princeton Tigers try for their 25th straight victory against the team that was tabbed from the beginning of the season as the most likely to break the streak.

Princeton hasn't been beaten on its home field since Penn did it, 14-13, in 1949 and hasn't been beaten anywhere since the Cornell game that same year. It was Penn, too, that gave the Tigers their last shutout in 1945.

If Princeton wins this one, the chances are it will go through to its third straight Ivy title, barring a sudden comeback by Cornell. Penn also is likely to find Cornell its only obstacle if it gets past the Tigers.

Despite the loss of its entire 1951 offensive backfield, Princeton won its first league game from Columbia, 14-0, then ran over Rutgers, 61-19. Penn played a 7-7 tie with Notre Dame, then pulled out a 7-0 decision over Dartmouth.

THE RECORDS give a hint of what can be expected in tomorrow's game, with Penn's mighty defense matched against the versatile Princeton attack. It's rated as a loss-up in most books and Princeton Coach Charley Caldwell adds: "I don't think anyone can figure this one out in advance."

Penn's greatest strength is in the line where Capt. Bob Evans at tackle, John Gurski, a 225-pound defensive guard and Ed Bell, one of the best all-around ends in the East, are the mainstays.

Princeton has most of last year's offensive line intact plus guard Brad Glass, a mighty man on defense, and Frank McPhee, who plays end on offense, halfback on defense and does almost everything superlatively.

Penn, which put in a T formation sequence along with its traditional single wing this year, has relied mostly on straightforward stuff in its attack so far. That has been enough with two strong fullbacks, Don Zimmer, and Joe Varatis, crumpling through opposing lines. With a triple-threat sophomore, Wall Hynowski, Glenn Adams and Bill Deuber to support them, Penn has a potentially powerful attack that could break loose any time.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—One a flashing left hook to the jaw by George Araujo knocked out Joe Brown of New Orleans in 1:24 of the seventh round at a nationally telecast ten rounder at St. Nicholas Arena tonight. Araujo, a 7 to 5 underdog, weighed 132½ to his 26-year-old rival's 154½.

The sudden finish to what had been a dull fight, brought the group of 2099 (gross gate $4402) to its feet.

Araujo, a 21-year-old lightweight contender from Providence, made a lightning turn near the ropes and shot a short right to his 26-year-old rival's jaw.

Brown fell over the middle rope and then sagged to the floor. He got on his knees at six and barely raised himself up as referee Ray Miller counted ten and waved him out.

3 Sets of Racing Brothers Will Appear in Sanatoga Outing

Family feuds will be carried to the racing oval at Sanatoga Speedway tomorrow afternoon as three sets of brothers disregard blood links for a shot at the stock car prize money.

The Moore brothers, Mose and Harry, have the most to gain. Both are pressing Reds Leshner in the point standings and stand a chance to overtake him before the season ends in a few weeks.

Monk and Harry Keller, and Rocky and Frank "Lucky" Ewing conducted to determine the best are the other kinfolks who will rub linked driver at the track. Monk wheels in this the second Sunday Keller has gained the most support from the fans with Leshner, and a feature win for Leshner would Mose Moore running second and just about clinch the season's third. At the close of the season ratings for him. He has had four the winner will be presented with main go victories at Sanatoga this a beautiful cup.

Others in contention are Dick Rodenberger, George Gregory, Harvey McDonald, Jim Ryan and Curt Sherman.

A popularity contest is being match.

125, 100-Pounders Win Games Against Coatesville Juniors

Pottstown Junior High 125 and 100 pound teams each notched shutout victories over opponents from Coatesville yesterday afternoon at Franklin field.

The 125-pounders won 13-0, and the midgets came through with a 14-0 victory. This left Coatesville series started Thursday afternoon tied the Gordon school, 6-6.

Two long runs by back Ken Yerger carried the charges of coach Charlie Wisner to their victory. In the first period Yerger romped for 40 yards to start the afternoon's scoring. Quarterback Dick Hunter fired a pass to end Gene Zelenak for the extra point.

The same Cub back, who punched holes in the Gordon line all afternoon, broke into the clear again in the second quarter, going the distance for a 32-yard scoring run. The extra point attempt failed.

Gordon's 125-pounder were unable to pierce the locals' forward wall to any great extent as tackles Bart Selmann and Ray Salata, and guards Elbert Oliver and Gary Seasholtz played fine defensive ball.

In the 100-pounders game the pattern was about the same; score early and then play it tight. Fullback John Johnson scored for coach Spence Lessig's crew on the first period 20-yard scamper. Walt Harasin plunged over for the extra point.

Reynolds Too Stiff to Even Comb His Hair

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 10 (AP)—Just how much wear and tear is there on a pitcher's arm during a strenuous seven-game World Series? So much that Allie Reynolds couldn't even comb his hair today because his arm was too stiff. Mrs. Reynolds obliged so that her famous husband could look pretty to as he rode in a parade with Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Allie was quick to tell reporters that riding in the parade had no political significance, although reporters noticed he was wearing a Stevenson button.

"I just wouldn't want to make a commitment at this point," he said. "I've been too busy lately to think about politics."

The remark about being busy was got on his knees at six and barely raised himself up as referee Ray Miller counted ten and waved him out.

Krause Blasts Share-the-Buck Plan by NCAA

SOUTH BEND, Oct. 10 (AP)—The University of Notre Dame, already critical of the NCAA limited football television program, expressed even stronger opposition today to a proposal to share the TV proceeds among more than 300 NCAA members.

"This share-the-wealth idea is socialist, illegal, immoral and un-American," asserted Edward (Moose) Krause, Notre Dame director of athletics.

"It threatens the entire future of the NCAA and might well cause the death of the association."

"Why not go all the way and split up all gate receipts and endowments among the NCAA members?"

Never Far Back

The Brooklyn Dodgers' widest margin in the '52 race was 10½ games. The Brooks were never further than 2½ games off the pace. They trailed the Giants by that margin on May 28.

FOOTBALL HAS NO COMPETITION THIS WEEKEND

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—Three games that have everything and one that will have everybody make up the big four of college football tomorrow for the season's first Saturday when football will draw undivided attention.

The three that combine tradition, red hot rivalries and mighty teams are Princeton vs. Penn in the East's Ivy league, Maryland vs. Georgia in the South and Oklahoma vs. Texas in the Southwest.

The other is the weekly "television game" between Michigan State and Texas A. and M. at East Lansing, Mich., which will be watched by countless fans who can't go to other games—and probably by many who could.

These four aren't the only games of major importance. From East to West there are such others as William and Mary-Navy, Wake Forest-Villanova, Tulane-Georgia Tech, Wisconsin-Ohio State, Pittsburgh-Notre Dame, Baylor-Arkansas and Oregon State-Stanford which might easily fit into the "everything" category.

In the Ivy league, where football again has become a by-product of academic progress, Penn and Princeton are the only teams strong enough to break into the headlines nationally. Princeton, boasting a 24-game winning streak, was ranked tenth in the nation in the Associated Press poll this week. Penn only drew passing mention, but in trying to pick the winner, the experts had to settle for a tossup.

Texas and Oklahoma haven't lived up to their pre-season ratings yet. Texas dropped a tough one to Notre Dame and Oklahoma was tied by Colorado. But they have a pair of potent teams and the oldest inhabitant of those parts can hardly remember when their meetings failed to produce a rugged, exciting game.

IN A rivalry that dates only from the 1948 Gator Bowl game, Georgia, an impressive winner of three games, figures to give fourth-ranked Maryland a real tussle in a duel between two exceptional passers, Maryland's Jack Scarbath and Zeke Bratkowski of Georgia.

Michigan State, rated No. 1 in the pre-season polls, dropped behind Wisconsin this week after barely squeaking past Michigan and Oregon State. Texas A. and M. doesn't figure to be as strong as those two, but should provide enough action for the televiewers.

Defending its top ranking and a share of the Big Ten lead, Wisconsin plays rugged Ohio State at Columbus while challenging Purdue takes on Iowa.

Other games of special interest send California, the No. 3 team in the weekly rankings, against Oregon; fifth-ranked Georgia Tech against a possible loughie, Tulane; Duke, No. 6, against South Carolina and Kansas, No. 9, against Iowa State.

Although they don't involve top teams, Cornell-Syracuse, Dartmouth-Army, Columbia-Yale, Clemson-Florida, George Washington-Virginia, Louisiana State-Kentucky, Mississippi-Vanderbilt, Washington, Illinois, Indiana-Michigan, Southern Methodist-Missouri, Baylor-Arkansas, Colorado-Arizona, Oregon State-Stanford and Rice-UCLA all are games of considerable importance.

Giants, Browns Meet Sunday

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—With one exception, the New York football Giants were in tiptop shape today for their important battle with the Browns in Cleveland Sunday.

Fullback Pat Knight, hurt a couple of weeks ago, was the only New Yorker not ready for the clash of the unbeaten leaders of the National Football League's American conference. Each team has won two games and Sunday's clash could go a long way towards settling the divisional title.

EXCAVATION in the hole was performed by the crane. Work by the crane had been completed and it was moving away from the hole when the mechanism suddenly slipped out of control.

Dillingham explained the failure was not due to a break in the cables. The long boom snapped cleanly at its base and fell along the edge of the hole.

The operator of the crane, whose name was not available last night, was not injured. The heavy metal roof of the crane cab was dented by the falling boom.

Six other workmen at the scene were treated in the plant dispensary for minor injuries.

Joseph Schack, address unknown, sustained a cut on the left arm. William Papoulias, Reading, suffered cuts of the right shoulder. Robert Schaeffer, address unknown, suffered cuts on both legs and Robert Keefer, address unknown, and Joseph Leonard, Reading, were treated for minor shock.

Fred Kenworthy, address unknown, suffered cuts of the right leg and a cut at the base of the spine. Dr. Nicholas J. Christ, Birdsboro, will check the men this morning.

Addresses of those treated were not included on dispensary records.

APPROXIMATELY 12 men were working in the pit when the accident took place. Another 12 were preparing to enter the pit.

One observer reasoned a coupling pin on the boom must have broken. Work on the huge construction job was started this past March 7. When the plant is completed it will be operated for the Army Ordnance department by the Birdsboro Armor Casting company.

The accident was the first serious mishap since construction began.

Col. B. F. Hatch, resident engineer, is in charge of the project for the Army.

RABBI SCHORSCH —

Schorsch to enter this year was the coincidence that Fourth of July fell on Friday and that on Friday night, Dr. Schorsch delivered his major sermon of the week.

Although Dr. Schorsch never uses a manuscript in the pulpit, he was able to provide the judges with a copy of his sermon because he never forgot what a theological professor told him in Breslau, Germany, a quarter-century ago: "Always speak extemporaneously. But always come well-prepared."

REFORE HE enters the pulpit

Dr. Schorsch has written and revised, read and re-read what he intends to say generally.

Dr. Schorsch draws material for sermons from big notebooks, the pages of which are filled with single-spaced typewriting and closely-written handwriting. These are notes that he gathers from his reading, meditating and observations. Sometimes, he'll get out of bed to make a note on a promising thought.

Some of the notes, he said, are not used in a sermon until years after they first were made.

"I consider sermons a spiritual obligation," he said yesterday. "If people take the time and trouble to come and listen, they come to hear a message, not to hear babbling."

"When a speaker stands up, he must be moved by a respect for his audience."

ON THE occasions when he wants to introduce a Hebrew quotation into his text, Dr. Schorsch does it the easy way, using his German-made typewriter with Hebrew characters. There are 22 Hebrew letters, and no capital letters.

He is in a good position to keep from repeating himself in his sermons, for he has 16 volumes in which he has bound every sermon he has delivered during his 12 years in Pottstown.

Dr. Schorsch began his prize-winning sermon with: "The sweetest song in human ears is the hymn of freedom."

He continued by pointing out that the revolution of the people of Israel in Biblical times and the American Revolution both were aimed not at unconditional freedom, but freedom under God.

"Freedom under God can only be uprooted if the Declaration of Independence is emptied of its Divine content; if the faith in the Supreme Judge of the World is killed by atheistic ridicule; if the unalienable rights of all nations are made the spoils of political conspirators who first prepare their victims for the knock-out punch by robbing them of their faith in God and Divine Providence."

"If our enemies succeeded in separating the challenge of freedom from its spiritual roots, they would have won the war against democracy without firing one shot. They would have cut off the tree from its life-giving roots."

ACQUITAL RETURNED

Similar Tragedy Takes Man's Life

Seven miles from the scene of the tragic Birdsboro accident a 25-year-old man was killed yesterday morning in a similar mishap.

Richard Schultz, Pennside, near Reading, was crushed to death at 11 a. m. under the heavy bucket of a crane which broke loose at the Reading Bone Fertilizer Company plant, where he was a foreman.

The plant is situated off River road, Ridgewood. Schultz was dead upon arrival at Reading hospital. Dr. Paul D. Good, Berks county coroner, said the bucket which became loosened in an undetermined manner fell on the man's head.

suffered cuts on both legs and Robert Keefer, address unknown, and Joseph Leonard, Reading, were treated for minor shock.

Fred Kenworthy, address unknown, suffered cuts of the right leg and a cut at the base of the spine. Dr. Nicholas J. Christ, Birdsboro, will check the men this morning.

Addresses of those treated were not included on dispensary records.

APPROXIMATELY 12 men were working in the pit when the accident took place. Another 12 were preparing to enter the pit.

One observer reasoned a coupling pin on the boom must have broken. Work on the huge construction job was started this past March 7. When the plant is completed it will be operated for the Army Ordnance department by the Birdsboro Armor Casting company.

The accident was the first serious mishap since construction began.

Col. B. F. Hatch, resident engineer, is in charge of the project for the Army.

class on most Sundays in the church, of which he became pastor almost 47 years ago.

He will observe a double anniversary on Jan. 1—the 52d anniversary of his ordination and the 50th anniversary of his wedding. His wife, Lena (Keim) Nyce, is nine years younger than he.

The Rev. and Mrs. Nyce don't plan any special birthday celebration, although he plans to attend church as always.

The usual large number of birthday cards already had begun arriving yesterday.

by fellow members of the Reading consistory, to which Pottstown, Pottsville, Reading, Hamburg, Lancaster and Shendoesha Masons belong.

Among them were Marshall E. Smith, commander-in-chief of the consistory; Paul A. Rutt, consistory secretary; James C. West, Pottsville; Dr. Thomas Ford, Reading schools superintendent who was the only other Reading consistory man to receive the 33d degree with Haas, and Burgess William A. Griffith.

Haas, also a member of Rotary, the Elks, Knights of Malta and the Patriotic Order of the Sons of America, was initiated into Pottstown's Stichter lodge 254, F and AM, 24 years ago last night.

He has been the lodge's junior and senior warden and worshipful master. He also has been its representative to the State's Grand lodge since 1941 and lodge chaplain since 1938.

He has served as scribe, king and high priest of Pottstown's Royal Arch chapter 271 and as senior warden, high priest and sovereign prince of C. Gilbert Steffy council, Princess of Jerusalem.

enemies of the Soviet people and for warmongers

"AGGRESSIVE BLOCS and alliances created by the American imperialists cannot be firm and reliable," the war minister told the congress. In Korea, he declared, the Americans have suffered "a shameful military, moral and political defeat unheard of in their history."

With its okay of the five-year plan proposals, designed to boost total Soviet industrial output by the end of 1953 by 70 percent over 1950's production, the congress passed the half-way mark on its agenda.

That left changes in the party structure, under which Prime Minister Stalin's politburo will be supplanted by a presidium which probably will have much the same composition, and elections for the central organs of the party.

IT APPEARED almost certain the party's central committee is going to ask Stalin to carry on as secretary general and top-ranking member of the new presidium. Every indication points to his acceptance.

Stalin, who usually is on vacation at this time of year, has been in constant attendance at the congress sessions, which got under way the past Sunday.

(The real leader of every Communist party, including the Soviet, is the secretary general of its central committee.)

In Memoriam

SHINN—In loving memory of our dear grandfather who passed away Oct. 12, 1951. One year has passed since that sad day. One who loved was called away. But we still miss him. It was his will that we should live. Sadly missed by DELBERT, BETTY and SHIRLEY.

SHINN—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Thomas I. Shinn died Oct. 12, 1951. Before our eyes he slowly faded away. He left us his love and his faith. Always smiling at his sufferings. Without murmur, without will. The Golden Gate opened and a gentle voice said, "Come." And with a farewell spoken. He calmly entered home. We will miss him, but we will live on. Closer when we meet again. Sadly missed by his WIFE and DAUGHTERS.

TOSTO—Frances Ailing—in loving memory of my daughter who passed away Oct. 12, 1949. As living memory never dies, As years go on and days go by, Of one I loved and never forgot. Sadly missed by MOTHER and GLADYS.

GRAY—Henry—in memory of our dear and beloved brother who passed away Oct. 11, 1949. Sadly missed by BROTHERS and SISTERS.

Set Designer Found Bludgeoned to Death In Blazing Apartment

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—Death set a weird and final scene today for a young stage designer, found bludgeoned and bound in his blazing uptown apartment.

The victim, Sanford Tillis, 26, lay face down in a pool of his own blood. His hands and feet were tied loosely with rubber coated wire ripped from a bedroom light fixture.

Old-fashioned, Victorian furniture in the two and a half room apartment at Amsterdam avenue and 93d street was afire. A blazing couch was overturned onto the body in the living room. In the bedroom, a heap of clothing was afire on a chair.

Police called it murder and arson, but could offer no motive.

JEWELRY AND other valuables in the first floor apartment were untouched. But robbery hardly seemed likely. But the victim's father, Henry Tillis, a custom tailor, insisted to detectives: "I just can't understand it unless it was robbery."

Twenty-five detectives were at work questioning a dozen acquaintances of the slain man, including an unidentified blond youth.

Police were trying to trace the slender, dark-haired Tillis' movements since he dined with his family Wednesday night. He last was seen about 5:30 p. m. (EST) yesterday. His neighbor across the hall, Mrs. Edith Mills, said him headed home.

Tillis' latest job as a set designer for a Columbia university theater did not require his constant presence. He often did his work at home.

HIS FATHER said Tillis had no steady girl, but dated young women often.

Neighbors described him as a man who seldom entertained visitors. His apartment bore evidence of quiet culture.

Tillis apparently was slugged over the left temple. Officers theorized the killer set fire to the apartment to try to cover the murder. However, an autopsy during the day showed that Tillis died of bludgeoning plus the effects of the fire. Thus he apparently still was alive when the blaze was set.

Police said the stage designer took "a savage beating."

Manservant Charged In Slaying of Bullers

PRESCOT, Eng., Oct. 10 (AP)—Murder charges were lodged today against a snub-nosed young manservant accused wounding Lady Derby and killing two bullers with sub-machinegun fire in a wild outburst at stately Knowsley hall.

The servant, trainee footman Harold Winstanley, 19, said little in magistrate's court. The brief, hearing brought out no motive. Lady Derby, 32, and beautiful, dex reached its record peak of was shot last night as she dined alone in a second-floor room of her home. She was hit in the neck by one bullet. She was taken to the Royal infirmary at nearby Liverpool. There her condition was described as satisfactory. It was understood she would not need to undergo an operation.

WSB Won't Hurry on Wage Hike Approval

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The soft coal industry and the United Mine Workers asked the Wage Stabilization board today for immediate approval of a $1.90 daily wage boost for 350,000 soft coal miners.

Board Chairman Archibald Cox, told reporters after the three-hour closed session, his agency would not be rushed into a decision despite reports from some areas that a walk-out is possible if pay checks which fall due starting to-

Pinay Finds US 'Note' To France Unacceptable

PARIS, Oct. 10 (AP)—Twenty-four hours after denying it, the US embassy admitted today it had delivered to the French a typewritten request for a stout military effort in return for an American contribution of $525,000,000 and got the request slammed back in its face.

Last night reporters were told Ambassador James Dunn had posed the request only orally. Tonight Ben

Senale Subcommittee Urges Perjury Probe Of Davies' Testimony

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—John P. Davies Jr., career diplomat accused of recommending that a hush-hush government agency enlist the advice of persons described as Communists, has told senators he could not give them details because the incident was "only slightly less sensitive than that of atomic energy."

Members of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, before which he appeared, have since urged a study to determine whether he committed perjury during his testimony.

Davies said the 1949 operation involved was being planned by the Central Intelligence agency, the government's top espionage outfit, and that as far as he knows it was not put into effect.

Davies was asked, at hearings which the subcommittee held behind closed doors in August, 1951, about testimony by a previous witness, who said Davies had recommended that CIA use six persons for consultation and guidance. The subcommittee said three of these had been named as Communists in its hearings.

DAVIES TESTIMONY, made public tonight, was taken in connection with the subcommittee's year-long search for Communist influences on US foreign policies, especially in the Far East.

When the subcommittee started to question him about the first of the six persons, Davies said:

"This is a question, if it is what you are leading to, which is of a top secret classification, and it is one which very few people in the government are to know about. "It touches on an operation which is only slightly less sensitive than that of atomic energy. I, therefore, am not at liberty to talk about this subject without clearance from my superiors."

September Food Prices Show 'Sharp' Decline

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Retail food prices dropped 1 percent during the last two weeks of September—the sharpest biweekly decline since the past February—the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today.

Fresh fruits and vegetables and poultry led the decline. The index on Sept. 30 was 231.5 percent of the 1935-1939 base period, 14 percent higher than the pre-Korean level of June 15, 1950.

Prices started going down after Aug. 25, when the retail food index reached its record peak of 235.7.

Stevenson Invades Far South But Stands Pat on Civil Rights, Tideland Oil Questions

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 10 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson invaded the far South tonight with no compromise stand on ticklish civil rights and tidelands oil issues and an attack on what he termed the "suicidal foreign trade fanaticism" of the GOP.

The Democratic Presidential nominee—the first ever to campaign deep in Dixie—stood pat on the Democratic civil rights platform and said he believes a settlement fair to both the States and Federal Government can be worked out on tidelands oil.

Stevenson flew into politically touch-and-go Louisiana after a midday campaign in Oklahoma. The Democratic Presidential candidate, at the airport tonight.

Chinese Mass Reserves In White Horse Hill Fight

SEOUL, Korea, Saturday, Oct. 11 (AP)—Daring South Korean troops today slipped behind the Chinese Communist flank on White Horse mountain and battled hand-to-hand with Reds on a hill the Communists use as a base on that Western Front sector.

The hill is one mile north of hotly-contested White Horse and separated from it by a stream and a valley. An allied officer said South Korean Ninth division troops had sneaked "well up the slope" of the hill in early morning darkness before they were discovered by the Reds.

The officer said the Reds had been sending reinforcements from the hill to the White Horse mountain fight.

The Communists were reported massing 16,000 fresh troops for the struggle for White Horse. South Koreans clawed to within 150 yards of the White Horse summit under fierce Red artillery and mortar fire in the darkness this morning.

The fighting on White Horse mountain practically stopped at dawn with the Reds holding the crest and the South Koreans holding to their new positions down the slope.

After a night of rain, today dawned clear. The battle for White Horse mountain was in its fifth day. The height, guarding the approaches to the Chonwon valley, one of the main invasion routes to Seoul, changed hands more than a score of times since Monday, and seven times on Friday alone. It was the fiercest action in more than a year.

Ike Agrees to Bare Financial Statement

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 10 (AP)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower replied "of course" today to the question of whether he will make a statement about his financial position before the Presidential election Nov. 4.

In saying this, he appeared to have changed his mind, in some degree, at least, since the past Sunday when he told correspondents aboard his campaign train: "I haven't decided, but as of now, I don't think I will do anything about it."

A written statement was sent to the Republican Presidential candidate by correspondents today which read:

"MAY WE please have an answer directly from you to the question whether you intend to make public before the election your income tax returns or a statement giving substantially the same information?"

His reply, delivered by press secretary James C. Hagerty, was: "Of course. If anyone was interested, they can have a report as soon as it is completed. It's peak" of growth and well being under Democratic administrations "ord anyway."

White House Aide Hints Crouch's 'Story' Linking Wife to Reds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Leon H. Keyserling, top economic adviser to President Truman, tonight branded as false a published report saying an ex-Communist identified Mrs. Keyserling from old photographs as a girl he saw at Communist gatherings.

The published story said the former Communist, Paul Crouch, told closed sessions of the Senate subcommittee on internal security he knew Mrs. Keyserling as a college girl named "Mary" in 1928-29. Crouch testified "Mary" often said she was a Communist Party and Young Communist league member, the story said.

A statement issued by Keyserling tonight said Crouch "did in fact tell a story in 1951 deliberately designed to involve me and my wife (the former Mary Dublin) in suspicion of Communist sympathies."

"The fundamental fact, however, is that Crouch's own sworn testimony is that he is unable to make positive identification of Mrs. Keyserling as the girl whom he says that he knew."

KEYSERLING SAID Mrs. Keyserling's sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Dublin Marshall of New York, has testified that she and not Mrs. Keyserling met Crouch in 1928-29.

Mrs. Keyserling's sister further testified, Keyserling said, "that she is not and has never been a Communist. These facts have been established by sworn testimony unchallenged by any one except Crouch."

Keyserling said neither he nor his wife had ever been sympathetic to Communism, or affiliated with Communists eight miles northwest of Yonchon, or Communism.

Cash, Merchandise Prizes to Be Offered For Parade Winners

Costumed marchers in Pottstown's annual Halloween parade will be judged on six classifications. It was announced yesterday.

Judges will select winners in the funniest, nationality, best Halloween, prettiest, impersonation and most original classifications.

In an open classification, vehicles of varied decorations and sizes will vie for prizes.

Merchandise awards will be made by the Mercantile Bazaar. Also, cash prizes and special prizes will be presented.

Judges and division marshals will be furnished by Rotary, Lions, Optimists, Jaycees, American Business Club and Soroptimists.

At the close of the parade, participants and band members will be given refreshments in front of the Elks' home.

Judging will be conducted between 6:30 and 7 o'clock. The parade will begin promptly at 7 on High Street between Washington and Adams streets.

MARCHERS WILL be divided into 13 divisions. Each division will be divided into two age groups, 11 years and over and 10 years and under, with two judges assigned each group.

Recreation Director Robert A. Reis and Richard E. Ludwick, past president of the Jaycees, worked over details of the parade which will be Oct. 29, weather permitting. It will be conducted the following day if inclement weather forces postponement.

The Pottstown Junior High school band and bands from North Coventry, Aloysius parochial and West Pottsgrove schools will participate in the annual event.

Area Pair Sentenced For Battling Constable

Two Pottstown area cousins were jailed yesterday for beating a constable severely.

Montgomery County Judge George C. Corson sentenced Charles Sell, 29, River road, Collegeville, to serve two months in the county prison, and to pay a $200 fine.

James Sell, 34, Ridge road, Telford RD, was sentenced to a four-day term and fined $100.

Jeffersonville State police said that when Constable Robert W. Nester, of Creamery, attempted to serve a morals charge warrant on the younger cousin, the other cousin came to his rescue.

In addition to beating the constable, the cousins took his guns. The two were convicted earlier this week.

YOUR GEM STORY FOR TODAY

A man from Stowe writes, "Where is silver found?"

Almost every country in the world produces silver. The U.S. and Mexico produce about two-thirds of the world's supply, with Mexico furnishing 50% more than our country. Other sources are Australia, Germany, Spain, Great Britain, Japan, and India.

With the Christmas season not too many weeks away we want to remind you, as we have for years in the past, that it's not too early to start laying away your Christmas gifts. Those who do may be considered wise shoppers. First of all, you may pick your choice of the entire holiday stock. Secondly, a small gradual payment over a two month period does not hurt the budget nearly so much as would a purchase several days before Christmas. And third, you may shop in comparative quiet comfort without the holiday crowds and excitement.

These above reasons make good common sense, so why don't you start your shopping early this year? Why be caught in the rush? And while we are on the subject remember, nothing says quite so much as Christmas as does a gift of Jewelry.

For gifts of lasting value and beauty, see us when you start to Christmas shop. You'll be surprised how far your dollar will go at our store at 210 High Street. For the past 67 years, the people of Pottstown have paid us a visit when "something very special" is wanted. Surely they all couldn't be wrong. They must have been well satisfied. So when you want something special with guaranteed satisfaction, stop in to see us.

See you next Saturday,

Mrs. J. Harold Yocom, chairman of the committee that planned the donation day, and her assistant, Mrs. Harry Loughney said that they were pleased with the response.

They attributed the success of the campaign to the hard work of the 22 other members on the committee who were assigned to the various schools in the Pottstown area to promote donations.

"We probably won't know for a few days how much the canned goods collected are worth," Mrs. Yocom said. She said today the collection will be sorted and probably the value will be computed in conjunction with the sorting.

All the proceeds of the donations will go to Memorial hospital. The food will be used by the patients and personnel.

Minister, Embarrassed By Empties, Explains All

LAKELAND, Fla., Oct. 10 (AP) — The Rev. Herman D. Cox, Baptist minister here, doesn't want city garbage collectors to get the wrong idea about him.

He appeared before the city council to ask it to point out to the garbage men that the beer cans and whiskey bottles they occasionally find in his rubbish are picked up from the church lawn where they are tossed by people who "fail to respect" the church.

The city council assured him the garbage men would have the situation explained to them.

Westinghouse Head Lists 3 Union 'Musts'

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 10 (AP) — President Gwilym A. Price of Westinghouse Electric corporation listed three musts for unions today in an unprecedented appearance before a big labor convention.

Addressing 700 delegates to the Fourth Annual Convention of the CIO-International Union of Electrical Workers, Price said he expects unions to live up to these three obligations.

"First, we expect the unions to live up to their contracts."

"Second, we expect the unions to use every amicable means of settling honest differences at the bargaining table before resorting to a strike."

"And, finally, we respect union leaders and we think the union should respect management. Irresponsible name-calling and tactics designed to influence the employee to hate the company can only make this job of getting along more difficult."

Pupils in High School To Take Test Series

Tenth and Eleventh grade pupils at Pottstown Senior High school will be given their annual language, psychological and aptitude tests Oct. 20, 21 and 22. Principal Stanley I. Davenport Jr. announced last night.

Tests for Twelfth graders will not be held until March or April. Davenport said. The coming examinations will be given during school hours.

Tenth grade pupils will take an Iowa Language Abilities test, Mooney Problem Check list and Knower Preference record.

Eleventh grade pupils will take an American Council of Education psychological exam, Bell Adjustment inventory and Iowa High School Content test.

The Iowa Language Abilities test deals with a pupil's background knowledge of English and general languages and the Mooney check list through which educators can determine the reason for a child's failure in school if he happens to be failing.

The Kuder test helps inform teachers toward what type career pupils are headed and what the vocational trends of each child should be.

The American Council of Education test gauges the pupils' intelligence and the Bell test discovers how well a child is adjusted to his environment.

Pupils' success in school subjects is measured by the Iowa High School Content test.

Bad Check Passer To Make Restitution

A former Pine Forge man who admitted passing $80 worth of bad checks in the Pottstown area the past year was placed on probation for one year yesterday by Judge E. Arnold Forrest in Montgomery county courthouse, Norristown.

William A. Dudley, 33, Washington, D. C., returned to Pottstown the past month, when he was arrested. He said he came here to get a job so he could earn money to repay his victims.

Judge Forrest ordered him to make restitution to his victims, who were: Horosky Brothers Service station, Kenilworth, $5; Levitz Furniture company, 212 High street, $25; Red Arrow Oil company, 128 High street, $25, and Wilmer Kinckiner, High and Adams streets, $25.

Dudley was living in Pine Forge when the offenses were committed. He moved to Washington the past January.

Pottstown Motor Patrolman Stanley Borow, who arrested Dudley, testified against him.

Judge Dannehower also ordered Dudley to pay the costs of prosecution, about $200.

find it necessary to postpone the trial."

Delaney's counsel, C. Keefe Hurley, had filed hundreds of newspaper clippings with Federal Judge Charles E. Wyzanski Jr., who presided at the trial in moving for dismissal of the indictment or at least a postponement.

REPRESENTATIVE Kean (R-NH), ranking member of the subcommittee which held the hearings, said today "We had to have the hearings. They were the only way to study the actions of collectors and how certain evils had come about. If based entirely on the question of the time element, then maybe the Justice department could wait awhile after hearings before bringing a case to trial."

Judge Magruder said: "Delaney's character was pretty thoroughly blackened and discredited as the trial approached." He added:

"Naturally, due to local interest, publicity was intensified in the Boston area, but it was also carried by the big press associations far and wide throughout the nation."

Building Fire in Street Forbidden, Man Learns

Cleanliness is next to Godliness but you can't string a clothesline at night on a public street and build a big bonfire to hasten the drying of your daily wash.

An Alabama man found this out last night after he went through the illegal routine on South Hanover street last night at 10:45 o'clock and was promptly arrested by Patrolman John Kirkin.

Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, of the Second ward, ordered the man confined to the borough lock-up without bail until a hearing is held today. The man will be given a mental examination, also.

Doehler Club Enjoys Square Dancing

Brookside Country club vibrated last night to the rhythm of a country-style square dance as 150 members of the Doehler-Jarvis Fellowship club frolicked at their annual party.

Mr. and Mrs. William Morrell spun their square dance records and called the dances.

The champion hoedowners were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stofflet who took the square dance competition in an elimination contest involving dozens of couples.

The "Night of Fun" turned out to be just that. Committee members planning the party chose the name for the affair to warn those who were attending that wallflowers would be pulled away from their support to take part.

When the square dancers were given a rest, Ken Nichols and his orchestra played slow music.

Contests in cake-baking, apple-bobbing and balloon-breaking kept the club members entertained while the musicians caught their breath.

tion of the building when they arrived. The seven lines trained on the blaze brought it under control in about an hour but the companies continued to pour water on the smoldering embers until early this morning.

Part of the roof at the rear of the building was entirely destroyed.

A four story building of the company about 15 feet away from the blazing storeroom was endangered by the flames. The large building was protected by hoses trained by the fire companies on the flames reaching out to it.

Deisher reported there were two men in the building until about 8:30 p. m. and that when they left there was no sign of fire. He said, "For 50 years the company has never had a fire. That is up until about two years ago and since then we have had three fires including this one."

The fire two years ago and one the past May were caused by heat from the furnace which melts the iron for castings.

"THERE WERE no had electrical wires and there was no heat generated where the fire broke out this time," Deisher asserted. "The wiring was all new because we had to re-wire after the last fire."

Robert L. Beidenam, captain of the Royersford Humane Fire company, said an investigation will be made today to determine the origin of the fire. He said nothing can be said definitely on how the blaze was caused.

One man was injured slightly in fighting the fire. Warren Leighton, Shippack, was treated for three cut fingers on his right hand by the Montgomery County Second Alarm association. A former resident of Royersford, he had been visiting there when the fire broke out.

PUC Says Dubois Must Refund Water Collections

HARRISBURG, Oct. 10 (AP) — The Public Utility commission today ordered the City of Dubois to refund with interest all increased rate payments made by consumers, in adjacent Sandy township, Clearfield county, since the past Jan. 1.

The PUC said it issued the order because the city water system failed to file a rate schedule here covering higher rates it started charging users outside of Dubois at the beginning of the year.

Ten Clubs Already Organized by Pupils Attending High School in West Pottsgrove

By DICK LEVENGOD

The annual club organization took place in West Pottsgrove High school. Already there are ten clubs with varying purposes and enrollments.

The home economics club for boys, sponsored by Miss Rahn, has an enrollment of 22 boys who are learning to cook.

The Woodworking club for girls, under the direction of Mr. Keays, has 18 girls working on projects.

The library club, sponsored by Mr. Holmes, has an enrollment of eight students who are learning to take care of the library.

The Dramatic club, composed of 24 boys and girls, is studying plays with the assistance of Mrs. Wentzel.

The dance club has 49 boys and girls learning to dance under the direction of Mrs. Kehler.

The field and stream club, sponsored by Mr. Merkel, consists of 24 boys and six girls who are learning the fundamentals of hunting and fishing.

THE TYPING CLUB, for non-commercial students and under the direction of Mrs. Wenhold, has 15 students who are learning to type and do art work with a typewriter.

The arts and crafts club with nine students is doing work in art under the direction of Miss Lieberman.

The work club, consisting of 11 boys under the supervision of Mr. Kazmerovitz, is working hard keeping the football field in shape.

The study club, supervised by Mrs. Rosenberry, has nine students who study their school work.

Mary Ann Hospador, Richard Geisler Win In Dance Competition

By JOAN MORST

From 7:30 to 10 p. m. Tuesday, the Senior class of West Pottsgrove High school held one of its most successful football dances. Refreshments were served and records provided by Senior class members.

Various kinds of dances were enjoyed, among them the elimination dance and the Paul Jones. The elimination dance was won by Mary Ann Hospador and Richard Geisler.

Senior Class to Present Play All About Lunatics

By MARY AXSMITH

A mystery farce, "Dead of the Night," written by James Beach, as selected as the play to be presented by the Senior class at West Pottsgrove High school. The class will give an evening performance Dec. 4.

The play's action takes place in a house occupied by lunatics.

Don't Drink, Judge Tells Pottstown Man

A Pottstown man, convicted of assault and battery on his 13-year-old son, was told yesterday by Montgomery county Judge William Dannehower to give up drinking face a jail term.

Stanley Drabinsky, Penn Village, who was found guilty the past Wednesday, received a suspended jail sentence and was put on one year's probation on condition he will not become drunk during that time.

"Some people can drink," the judge said. "You are not one of them. You might get in serious trouble."

Balancing Drabinsky's long record of convictions for being drunk and disorderly, the judge noted, is the fact that he is a World War II veteran on a total disability pension.

Judge Dannehower also ordered Drabinsky to pay the costs within 10 months.

3 Pottstown Masons Attend District Fete

Three members of Keystone Lodge 113 of the Masonic Order attended a banquet in Norristown last night in honor of M. W. G. M. Henry D. Horner, Philadelphia.

Leroy Oliver, Thomas Carter and Francis Banks attended from Pottstown. Oliver was on the committee for the banquet, which was given by the 4th Masonic District Council.

High School Fire Drill Routine Matter for Pupils

By RONALD MATTHEWS

At 10 a. m. the other day in West Pottsgrove High school the bell rang for a fire drill. At this sound all students, according to instructions, rose, closed all windows, and proceeded to the nearest exit.

When the student body was out of the school, a bell was again rung. The students then returned to classes, opened the windows and books, and went back to work.

Kiwanis to Sponsor 3 Hallowe'en Hops

Three Hallowe'en dances will be sponsored by Pottstown Kiwanis club on Oct. 30.

Junior High school pupils will attend a dance at the YWCA. Senior High pupils will participate in a dance at the Senior high gymnasium and members of Bethany center will attend a dance at the center.

Orchestra music will be furnished by Local 211, AFM.

All dances will be conducted from 8:30 to 11 o'clock. Kiwanians will furnish refreshments, prizes and supervisors for the dances.

Prizes will be given for costume contests at each dance.

County Jury Says Barlo Man Died in 'Unknown Manner'

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, Oct. 10 — A Montgomery county coroner's jury this afternoon returned an "open" verdict in the death of a 65-year-old Barlo man in Pottstown hospital.

Following an inquest before Coroner W. J. Rushong, the jury agreed that James L. Cassidy died "in a manner unknown to this jury."

Coroner Rushong disclosed that the cause of Cassidy's death was a fractured skull and that the man had remained unconscious throughout his 24 hour stay in the hospital.

State Police Corp. Michael Wisniewski, of the West Reading Barracks, and Berks county Detective J. J. Eben told the jury that their investigation failed to produce enough evidence to "warrant a prosecution."

However, Eben read a statement given by Stanley Gruchacz, proprietor of the Barlo Hotel, in which the latter admitted that he "pushed" Cassidy on the evening of Aug. 28 when the man ripped his shirt sleeve. He said Cassidy was drunk at the time.

CASSIDY WAS admitted to Pottstown hospital Aug. 30. When physicians noted that the man was suffering from a skull fracture.

Limerick Man Fined, Jailed in Toul Case

A Limerick gentleman farmer was sentenced yesterday to serve three months in Montgomery county prison, Norristown, and fined $300 for conducting a horse race betting room in Bridgeport.

Thomas Olivette, 59, pleaded guilty before Judge William F. Dannehower. Chief County Detective Albert Murphy testified that on the past Sept. 9, he and County Detectives James V. Gleason and William J.

He stated that the Berks county prosecutor's office did not consider this enough evidence to hold Gruchacz.

Obituaries

The two sons surviving MRS. ROBERT W. McCULLOUGH, POTTSTOWN RD. 3, were listed incorrectly in her obituary in yesterday's Mercury.

They are Lewis J. McCullough, at home, and J. Nelson McCullough, 947 Queen street.

Services for MARY E. (TRACE) MAUGER, wife of Prudent K. Mauger, GLASGOW, POTTSTOWN RD. 3, were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street.

The Rev. Ralph R. Frey, pastor of First Church of the Brethren, officiated.

Bearers were John Mauger, Edward Mauger, Arthur Mauger, Edward Trace, Augustus Hess and Robert Pusck.

Interment was made in Highland Memorial park.

Funeral services for CHRISTINE M. HOFFMAN, 3-month-old daughter of Warren and Eleanor (Karpinski) Hoffman, 41 Hilltop road, were held at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning from a funeral home at 258 Beech street.

The Rev. Charles Walsh, assistant rector of St. Aloysius Catholic church, officiated.

Interment was made in St. Aloysius new cemetery.

Reports on Agencies Delayed for 1 Month

Reports on the survey of Pottstown's charitable agencies, conducted by the Health and Welfare council, will be submitted to United Fund agencies immediately after the campaign ends next month.

This was announced yesterday by Lowell E. Wright, Montgomery county director of the tri-county council, who was in charge of the survey, designed to provide information in "streamlining" Pottstown agencies.

Wright said the original plan was to submit reports to agencies some time earlier. He added, "We have realized that nothing should be done this Fall which diverts attention in any way from the United Fund campaign."

Save Our Kiddies!

HARDLY a day goes by that there isn't an accident or a near accident at Penn street intersections.

You read of crashes at Penn and Walnut streets. Neighbors hear the screech of brakes and the crunching of steel sheeting at Penn and Chestnut streets.

The corners are among the most dangerous in town.
What Pottstown doesn't read about is the near accident—the danger to school children. Neighbors hear about and see it. They are unnerved by the many close shaves.

Penn street is something of a speedway because it's a one-way street. Walnut and Chestnut aren't noted for their slow traffic, because they are one-way too. Added to the dangerous speed is the fact that both intersections are made "blind" intersections because cars are parked almost to the corner (That's illegal, too).

There are hundreds of school children in the vicinity of these danger spots a whole day long. Released from school, some of the kiddies are not as alert as adults. They have had several close calls.

What's needed at these intersections is stop signs. Traffic should be stopped both ways. Stop signs should be placed on each intersecting street.

This double-stop isn't an innovation. It has been in use in many localities and is an accident preventer. It should be tried here. Let's not hurt our kiddies! Let's protect property!

Future 500 Years Ago

JANUARY 2, 1492, must have been one of those days on which the course of the future seemed clear—at least to Ferdinand and Isabella and the resplendent retinue riding with them to the walls of Granada.

They were on their way to accept the surrender of Boabdil, the last Moorish king in Spain.

They were marking the reunification of the country after seven centuries of alien sway.

The way seemed clear ahead—to the South and the East, to Morocco, Tunis, Algeria.

Yet before the year's end, the arrow of Spain's destiny had swung full into the West.

All this was the work, the almost unconscious work, of a man born more than 500 years ago, the man whom most of the world still misnames Christopher Columbus.

As Columbus approached the beach of San Salvador, the future also must have seemed clear.

Soon he would meet the Great Khan of Cipango—or perhaps Cathay. He would present the respects of their Spanish Majesties. He, the Admiral of the Ocean Sea, would be their representative in this Oriental land. Then, through the tropic trees came the naked Indians.

It took Columbus four voyages and a good many years to gain a glimpse of the role for which Destiny had chosen him.

Toward the very end, he wrote a note full of understanding, a note which has been eloquently transliterated by Salvador de Madrigal:

"You thought that you mattered. . . . But you mattered not. What mattered was the Great Design, the union of Continent and Continent, the discovery of the earth by the earth, and of man by man. . . ."

"The time had come for a world to die and for another world to be born. The New World that was to be discovered was not merely the American Continent, but the world which the discovery of the American Continent was to bring in the minds of men. . . ."

"What if you led for the wrong reason, since you led to the right place? Mankind may know where it is going even when its leaders do not."

That may be something for contemporary leaders and shapers and movers to remember, especially when they feel so sure about the pattern of the future.

Interesting Angle

THE atomic cannon, now that it makes its official appearance is exactly what might have been expected.

Artificers have succeeded in getting the device that explodes fissionable material into a small enough space to be contained in an artillery shell.

Use of a gun tube to throw such a shell at a target is conventional. The interesting angle isn't mentioned. If atomic shells can be made so small much smaller aircraft can deliver atomic bombs!

Teacher Looks For Progressive Education

Too Old-Fashioned

To the Editor: I was shocked when I read the account of the talk given by the headmaster of The Hill school before a local club the other night.

What surprised me was that this young man, presumably well educated, would come out and say he disapproved of progressive education, that the old "readin', writin' and 'rithmetic" were good enough for modern boys and girls. What an out-moded outlook!

Certainly, much of progressive education is a fad and there are many details of modern systems that are useless, but education has made advances in the past 20 years and only someone without any interest in advancing himself in the field of education would deny them.

I only hope that the headmaster was speaking hastily, and that his remarks did not represent what he really thought, for I should hate to think that the boys at a fine private school like The Hill are being taught with the old one-room school methods of two generations ago.

Pottstown RD 4

TEACHER

Disagrees With Minister

To the Editor: I was interested in the account the Rev. (A. Burtis) Halllock gave The Mercury about his trip to Europe.

No doubt, as an intelligent man, he saw many things over there which, for better or for worse, made an impression on him.

But I believe he went off base when he told of Italy, describing it as a prosperous land with plenty of food, clothes, automobiles and money.

I've read reports by trained reporters, and have heard stories by friends of my own who have been abroad, and they differed violently from the Rev. Halllock about conditions in Italy.

They say it a poor country, where there are many unemployed, many people hungry and many without proper homes or clothing.

The only reason I bother to write you about this is that I feel we Americans should not kid ourselves about conditions abroad or forget what war did to Europe.

If we remember what war did to those countries, we might get some idea of what it could do to us, and bend our efforts toward securing peace, not toward preparing for even a greater war.

WORRIED MOTHER

WASHINGTON

Truman Campaign Tactics Disliked By Stevenson

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Although Governor Stevenson's natural politeness and political sense seal his lips, his friends report that he has become increasingly uncomfortable in his mid-campaign role as understudy to Harry S. Truman.

All impartial polls, which are studied carefully at Springfield and on the Stevenson Train, report a hostile reaction to Truman's personal and unrestrained jibes at General Eisenhower—a form of attack to which the Democratic nominee himself has not resorted. The street comment is sprinkled with such adjectives as "vicious, degrading, undignified, mud slinging."

Truman's sarcastic remarks about his erstwhile military leader seem to fall flat for several reasons. For one thing, the popular like is not such a shining and susceptible target as Governor Thomas E. Dewey was four years ago.

Secondly, it is recognized that the Missouri's only stake in the struggle is self-vindication, which can be best given by history rather than by ballot-box statistics.

TRUMANISM UNPOPULAR: These Stevensonian analyses of Truman's impact indicate that the Democratic candidate may suffer both politically and personally.

The President appears to be pleasing only those elements which would vote for Stevenson in any event. The only favorable response has been noted in large, eastern cities, which are accustomed to "smart Alecky" campaign styles. But in the southern and Middle-Western states, where "Trumanism" is extremely unpopular among Democrats and independents, the Presidential exhibition may alienate still undecided voters.

Truman is also keeping the relatively unknown nominee from becoming a national figure in his own right. Besides submerging Stevenson's attractive and winning personality, the White House intruder has deliberately jockeyed the Illinois Governor into running on a record which, in part at least, he originally condemned.

CAMPAIGN LEVEL LOWERED: Truman's interference has lowered the level of a campaign which the two principals had promised to maintain on a far higher plane. Their post-convention expectations of a unique and classic contest for White House honors have vanished. Privately, both express regret at this trend.

The President's ransacking of secret files to disparage Eisenhower's war record so angered the former SHAPE commander that he replied in rough, army language.

When Truman dragged in the issues of the origins of the Korean conflict and the lack of American access to our Berlin zone, blaming the GOP leader for White House and State Department decisions of top-level character, the combat shifted from constructive discussion of future policy to a wrangle over ancient blunders.

Stevenson then had to pitch his speeches to Truman's. For the sake of party unity, he was forced to utter statements which began to sound like footnotes to Presidential off-givings. His more recent appearances show him to be a man ill at ease and less sure of himself than he was a few weeks ago.

Thus the original hope of Adlai and Ike to minimize foreign policy differences has disappeared. The rowdy spectacle has frightened our allies in the Far East and Europe over the next Administration's program. It has also cheered Stalin in his latest attempt to wear or scare other nations away from the United States.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

RUBY M., 63, was a foster aunt of mine. You may recall my describing her in this column a few years ago. . . . At that time she had a stroke, for her blood pressure was 220 and her weight then 215.

She was driving her car when it happened. She managed to pull to the curb and give the police my name; so they called me.

Then she went into a coma, but ultimately recovered, though her face and left arm still showed permanent evidence of paralysis.

But she could finally walk around and do her own housework after the stroke. However, there was a noticeable change in her personality.

She had formerly been an energetic, executive type who never let any of the men folks stay idle very long before she hatched up some job for them to do.

AFTER RECOVERING from the stroke, however, she was very submissive and quiet. Her memory seemed undisturbed, but the characteristic "drive" of her personality was lacking.

Meekly she followed orders instead of giving them. A year afterwards I assisted one of our eminent gynecologists in removing a 28-pound fibroid tumor of her uterus.

Meanwhile, I had put her on a diet. For months she had a nurse who watched her like a hawk! By means of the dieting and the removal of this fibroid, she got her weight down to 161.

Her blood pressure meanwhile had dropped to 144. But she couldn't stay on a diet. Apparently it had been the nurse who had held her to it formerly.

So her weight zoomed back to 207 pounds, and her blood pressure went up again to approximately 190.

One day she went downtown shopping alone, for she had been making such trips occasionally during recent months.

As she was ready to return home, possibly rather keyed up and excited, another blood vessel in her brain burst.

SHE FELL unconscious in the street. A police ambulance took her to the nearest hospital, and she died within 48 hours.

By dieting, we had pulled her blood pressure down from 229 to 144, or 76 points.

This 76-point drop had paralleled her weight reduction of 54 pounds!

Obviously, not all high blood pressure is due to obesity. But if you are fat, your heart is working overtime and against a higher pressure than if you were to diet.

For every five pounds of extra fat requires three MILES of extra blood vessels! And it takes higher blood pressure to keep blood flowing in those extra miles.

MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

World Was Round . . .

It's Columbus Day . . .

A COLUMBUS DAY—If you're a banker or a worker in a bank, you'll be happy Columbus Day comes on a Sunday this year. That'll give you a three-day holiday.

But ordinary workers just know it as a red day on the calendar Monday. School children will hear about it Monday. Nations along the discovery routes of Christopher Columbus honor the Admiral of the Ocean Sea tomorrow on Columbus Day, October 12th. Celebrations commemorate the year that marks the 501st anniversary of the Discoverer's birth as well as the 460th anniversary of his arrival in the New World. . . .

Christopher Columbus

ISLAND-HOPPING ADMIRAL—

Spain observes Columbus Day as a national holiday. In the port of Palos de la Frontera on the Bay of Cadiz stands a large Columbus monument. It serves as a reminder that from there the navigator sailed on his history-making voyage that provided an entire new hemisphere for colonization. The four expeditions of Columbus included stopovers in the Canary Islands, Spanish possessions since 1402. The Canaries rise abruptly from the ocean 60 to 300 miles off northwest Africa, and some 800 miles southwest of Spain. Their loftiest reach is a snow-capped peak towering 12,142 feet, which has served as a landmark for mariners since the Arab navigators of the 12th century. . . .

★ THE CANARIES, or Fortunate islands, were the western limit of the world to ancient geographers, but became the regular route for the Spanish ships after the discovery of America. With a current population of over 600,000 they produce grain, fruit, vegetables, and wines. October 12 each year in the Canaries is the "Day of the Race," focused on the new stock that has gradually evolved from the intermingling of Old and New World people. Sailing due west from the Canaries, Columbus made the first landfall in the New World at an island known to its natives as Guanahani. He renamed it San Salvador, and later it was known also as Watling Island. It is one of the Bahamas. From San Salvador, the ships zigzagged in and out of the West Indies collecting gold trinkets, parrots, plants, samples of Indian cloth, and even a few Indians. . . .

RUM CAY, Long Island, and Crooked Island in the Bahamas, as well as Cuba and Hispaniola turned up accidentally on the itinerary of this famous first voyage. With the rank of Admiral of the Ocean Sea, Columbus led three galleons and 14 frigates manned by 1500 men in 1493. On this second expedition he discovered the Virgin Islands, Leeward Islands, Puerto Rico, and Jamaica. On the third voyage the Cape Verde Islands and Trinidad, noted for its Pitch Lake, were reached and in August, 1498, he visited a supposed island and named it Isla Santa. It was the mainland of South America. The fourth voyage in 1502 added Honduras and Panama. Some 40 state of the US now join the Pan American countries together with Spain and Genoa, Italy, in the traditional observance of Columbus Day. In New York City 50,000 marchers will parade Fifth Avenue. . . .

★ HONOR—Martin W. Witmer, emeritus professor of English, Ursinus college, will receive the honorary degree of doctor of pedagogy at the Founders' Day convocation of Franklin and Marshall college, Lancaster, Oct. 24. Professor Witmer graduated from F. & M. in 1904. . . . William E. Harner Jr., Boyertown, has returned to Ursinus college, Collegeville, for his senior year. . . . Recently participating in operation Main Brace aboard the destroyer USS Borie was James V. Davis, metalsmith fireman, USN, Douglassville RD 2.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

RECURRENT coughs in children are those which return day after day, often in the form of coughing attacks. Most of the time these are more severe at night.

There are quite a number of diseases and infections that can bring on coughing attacks. In some cases, however, the trouble is not primarily an infection, but repeated stress and strain in the child's home-life.

Unfortunately, it is practically impossible for the parents or other members of the family to recognize these difficulties. Observation by an experienced doctor is often essential, and it may take all his skill to find out how much of the trouble is due to infection, and how much to fears, both on the part of the child and his parents.

Sometimes these children cough day and night, and the parents become very upset waiting for an attack to start. . . . Since these attacks may appear to come from various diseases, they may lead to a long series of tests and examinations. Different remedies and treatments may give little relief.

Parents may begin to worry about tuberculosis, though X-rays show no sign of this disease. Cough remedies for bronchitis may give no relief. Treatments for sinus trouble may also fail, and the doctor may suspect dampness, poor living conditions, or an epidemic of colds.

When none of the usual tests or diagnostic methods seem to turn up the real cause for the attacks, he may look outside the child himself. The physician then has to treat the parents and family as well as the child, and they must all follow his instructions closely.

Local Knights of Columbus to Dedicate Meeting Place

FORMER SALVATION ARMY BUILDING WAS REMODELED

William Ruffing, Phoenixville, Pa., holder of many titles in the Knights of Columbus, will be principal speaker at the dedication of the new K of C tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The new meeting place of Father Bally Council 1192, Knights of Columbus, is the converted headquarters of the old Salvation Army Citadel at 268 King street.

The building has been completely remodeled, a spokesman for the K of C, stated last night. He said the Council has converted the old heating system into a modern oil burner, painted the lobby of the building pale green and the council rooms dusty pink, covered the floors with dark red asphalt tile and installed modern appliances in the kitchen.

Ruffing's speech at the dedication of the new permanent headquarters of the Pottstown K of C. will be on Christopher Columbus. The talk appropriately enough is centered around the person whom the fraternal organization was named for and on the same day as the United States celebrates the birth of Columbus.

THE GUEST SPEAKER is a former State warden of the organization, having held the office for two years. He also was public relations chairman for Pennsylvania two years.

Other officers he held were past grand knight of the Phoenixville Council 1374, district deputy of the 3rd district for three, one-year financial secretary of the fraternal organization.

Lutheran Convention Sees 3-Hour Battle To Accept New Bible

SEATTLE, Oct. 10 (AP) — Delegates to the 18th biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America voted tonight after a hectic three-hour argument to accept the revised standard version of the Bible.

The action places the largest group in Lutherandom behind the new translation. The vote means that the joint commission on the liturgy will be requested to include the new version in a forthcoming hymnal.

The commission, composed of members representing churches of the National Lutheran council, is not bound by the request but a convention official said "There is very little likelihood they will ignore it."

The National Lutheran council includes all Lutheran groups except the Missouri synod, 2,000,000-member organization second in size in the Lutheran Church to the ULCA.

THE DISCUSSION over the new Bible, already widely accepted in Protestant churches of the world, followed reading of a memorial by 10 of the ULCA's 34 synods requesting approval of the revised translation.

The memorial was contrary to a report submitted by the joint commission, which had strongly urged retention of the King James version.

An immediate argument broke on the convention floor as both sides fought grimly for their views. Witnesses said a turning point came when the Rev. Dr. L. H. Steinboff, head of the Pacific synod, spoke at length in favor of the new version.

Earlier, the delegates had adopted a minimum pension plan granting a $900 a year pension to retired or disabled ministers or missionaries and $450 to widows, effective Jan. 1, 1954.

Dr. Thomas L. Cline, secretary of the board of pensions, reported to the convention that his group recognizes the desirability of increasing the minimum pensions to $1200 for all retired ministers, but said it was not financially feasible at this time.

the Phoenixville council for the past 17 years.

A position of honor which he presently holds is that of navigator of the fourth degree, Archbishop Ryan General Assembly, Philadelphia. Ruffing is the only non-Philadelphia who has held the office.

Priests from the borough's churches will be present at the dedication tomorrow. The invocation and other prayers will be said by the Catholic priests of the borough.

BOROUGH OFFICIALS and leaders of the fraternal organizations in Pottstown have been invited to attend the ceremony.

Officers of the K of C organization from councils in Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Bethlehem and DuBois, Pa., will attend the dedication of the new headquarters.

Serving as toastmaster for the festivities, to begin at 2 p. m. will be Paul J. Marchek, public relations officer for the council. He will introduce celebrities from other councils attending and borough officials and officers of Pottstown fraternal organizations.

Following the official dedication there will be a buffet supper served by the ladies' auxiliary of the Father Bally Council. Open house will be held immediately after the supper until 6 p. m.

Grand Knight William O. Smith heads the committee planning the affair tomorrow. Working with him as co-sponsors are members of the ladies' auxiliary of the fraternal organization.

State Police Probe Route 663 Accident

Jeffersonville State police are investigating an accident which involved a Pennsburg RD 1 resident's station wagon on Pleasant Run Hill, Route 663, about four miles south of Pennsburg, last night.

Police said the vehicle, owned by William B. Laytham, as damaged badly on both sides and underneath. An officer said it is possible the station wagon had been sideswiped while traveling south on the highway.

He said damage to the right side of the vehicle indicated it had sideswiped a high rock embankment on the west side of the road for 100 feet before striking a concrete abutment and knocking over a road sign.

Laytham could not be contacted by police last night to determine how the accident had occurred.

The National Lutheran council includes all Lutheran groups except the Missouri synod, 2,000,000-member organization second in size in the Lutheran Church to the ULCA.

Pottstown's Prides

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

The first person to move into the group of pre-fabricated homes built on Franklin street just north of Grace street were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Z. Ramberger, 985 North Franklin street. (That's he behind the mower.) They moved in the past Aug. 1, coming here from Hegins, near Pottsville. The house is built by Pottstown Home Builders. It is prefabricated by Gunnison Homes incorporated, a subsidiary of US Steel. The Rambergers' living room (at right) is about 20 by 14 feet. Behind it are a kitchen and utility room. There's one bedroom at the left front and two more in the rear on that side.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramberger are using one of the rear bedrooms as a den. The outer walls are painted a light gray with red trim. They are made of Marine plywood, backed by thick insulation and an inner wall of plywood that is finished naturally. There's an overhang at the front of the house to cut down glare and rain on the windows. Ramberger is building a garage and patio-breezeway at the rear of the home. He and Mrs. Ramberger operated a luncheonette in Hegins. He plans to do office work in Pottstown.

High School to See Bicentennial Exhibits

Pottstown Senior High school pupils will have a close look at the results of the borough's manufacturing strength during the Bicentennial Industrial show next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, at the armory, 261 King street.

Principal Stanley J. Davenport Jr. announced last night all classes will be dismissed early during the show period.

Some classes will be released as early as 1:25 p. m., the beginning of the seventh classroom period, and others at between 2:10 and 2:50 p. m.

A teacher will accompany each class to the show. Those pupils leaving the school before 2:35 o'clock will be expected to return to the school after viewing the products on display at the armory.

Rally Day Speaker Is India Missionary

The Rev. W. Theodore Penze, a missionary in India 25 years, will speak at the 9 o'clock Sunday school Rally Day service and the 10:15 o'clock worship service in St. Peter's Lutheran church, Stowe, tomorrow morning.

The missionary, now on furlough from his duties, will speak about India at the services and display trinkets and other items from that country.

At 3 p. m. the church will have an "Every Member Visitation" instruction meeting and at 7:30 p. m. vespers sponsored by the Luther League. The league's new officers will be installed at the late service.

Star's Condition Is Reported 'Serious'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Oct. 10 (AP) — Martha Raye, night club entertainer and former movie star, remained in serious condition at St. Francis hospital today after a blood transfusion.

Attending physicians said she had an intestinal ailment and that they had not yet decided whether a surgical operation would be necessary.

Miss Raye was rushed back to Miami Beach Thursday, the day after she started a vacation at Kingston, Jamaica.

She and her husband, Nick Condos, own the Miami Beach Five O'clock club.

St. John's Services To Be Led by Monk

A week of mission services conducted by a Benedictine monk will begin tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in St. John's Catholic church of the Greek rite, it was announced yesterday by the Rev. John D. Taplich, rector.

The missionary is Very Rev. Method Royko, Order of St. Benedict, prior of Holy Trinity priory, Pittsburgh.

Services will be held daily at 7 p. m. through Sunday, Oct. 19. At other times during the week there will be separate sermon programs for men, women, youths, and children.

Holy masses will be read each morning at 5:45 and 7:30 o'clock by the missionary, the rector and possibly other priests. Confessions will be heard after the Sunday services and the sermon programs. The missionary will speak in two languages, English and Ruthenian.

Most cigaret tobaccos contain about 10 percent sugar.

Pastor, Wife to Hold Open House; Work Done on Parsonage

The Rev. Maurice E. Hoover, pastor of Searies Memorial Methodist church, and his wife will hold an open house for members of the church tomorrow at the parsonage from 2 p. m. until 5 p. m.

The open house marks the completion of renovating work on the parsonage by congregation members.

The Rev. Hoover's theme for the sermon to be preached at the worship service tomorrow morning at 10:45 o'clock will be "It's the Inside that Counts." Theme of his sermon at vesper worship at 7:30 p. m. will be "Jesus and the Complainer."

The Methodist Youth Fellowship will have as guest speaker at its meeting at 8:45 p. m. Richard Hohl of Cedarville Methodist church.

5356 to Be Called From Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Oct. 10 (AP) — State Selective Service headquarters today ordered 5356 Pennsylvanians called up to meet the December draft quota.

The inductees, all 20 years or older, are the state's share of a national quota of 47,000.

The December quota of 5356 compared with 6204 summoned for November.

Their induction will bring the year's state total to 32,553 and the total since the draft was reactivated in September, 1950, to 78,551.

Salvation Army Speaker Tells WCTU How To Build for Abstinence Through Church

Capt. Robert Flinn of the Salvation Army spoke Thursday to the WCTU meeting held in the parlor of Seales Memorial Methodist church.

For his topic, Capt. Flinn chose the meeting's theme "we build for total abstinence through the churches."

This is done, he said, in three ways: by the standard of one's living; by the influence Christians exhibit, and by God who "gives us the power to build for total abstinence."

He further discussed the Army's street service and explained the

Does to Conduct Lessons For Season Square Dance

To be sure everyone knows what to do at their square dance next Saturday, Pottstown Does will hold special lessons at 8:30 p. m. Thursday in the Elks home, under the direction of the caller William Morrell.

The dance, to feature a Hal-lowe'en motif, will be to the music of Johnny Barker's orchestra in the Elks home. Pumpkins as pumpkins, as pies and as jack-o-lanterns will be doorprizes.

At the Doe Club meeting Thursday, Mary Kohler, Eleanor Trullinger, Helen Marie West and Bonnie Newman were accepted as new members.

Members planned at Hallowe'en party for their meeting Oct. 23 at 8 p. m. in the Elks home. They voted to move the date of their annual kiddies' Christmas party ahead one day to Dec. 22.

Nora St Onge was in charge of the program, which featured several selections by Mrs. Norman Lepperd's Meistersingers.

The club conducted a memorial service for Mrs. Harriet Snyder, former member who died last December.

Mission Study Group Hears Synod Report

Three delegates reported on the Philadelphia conference of the Synodical Women's Guild at the Mission Study group of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church meeting Thursday.

Mrs. Lloyd Stephens, Mrs. John Henry and Mrs. Paul Towers were the local representatives.

Mrs. A. B. Reichenbach, 359 South Hanover street, was hostess for the study group meeting and the president, Mrs. C. C. Burdian, began the review of "Mission to America" by Truman Douglas.

Next meeting is set for 2 p. m. Nov. 20 in the home of Mrs. A. W. Dettler, North Hanover street.

Members present were: Emma Diller, Mrs. George Funk, Mrs. Frank Wells, Mrs. Klire Gever, Elizabeth Biedervolf and Martha Fenstermacher.

North Coventry PTA Sets Bazaar, Dinner on Dec. 1

Bazaar stalls will be combined with turkey dinners at the North Coventry PTA country fair Dec. 6.

The group discussed plans for the affair, to be held in the new North Coventry Elementary school cafeteria and gymnasium, at a meeting this week.

Host for the gathering was the president, Leonard Bauman.

Mrs. Earl Leary was named chairman and Mrs. Aubrey Missimer, co-chairman, of the membership committee, and announced the kickoff of a new members drive.

Next meeting was slated for Oct. 21 at 8 p. m. in the North Coventry High school auditorium.

To fill open cracks in floors, soak some newspaper thoroughly in paste made of one pound of flour, three quarts of water, and one tablespoon of alum, thoroughly boiled and mixed. Make the final mixture as thick as putty and it

Pennsylvania Dutch Skits to Highlight Program of Woman's Club Tea Tomorrow

Highlighting the program of the Pottstown Woman's club tea tomorrow at 2 p. m. will be several original Pennsylvania Dutch skits by Mrs. Arthur Emery.

The tea opens the social season of the club and on the program with Mrs. Emery will be Jean Moore Miller who will present a recital of harp music.

Mrs. Emery adopted her unusual hobby while she was a student at Lebanon Valley college. She re-called, "whenver I heard a Penn-sylvania Dutch expression, I made a note of it. Gradually I began to arrange these notes unto little skits which I put on for my classmates."

Her repertoire lengthened until she arranged a half-hour program of skits which were so related that the context of one led right into the next.

Mrs. Emery will present only three of these skits at the program tomorrow. They are "Taking Liz-zie To Town," "Telephone Con-versation" and "Letter From Liz-zie."

When asked how often she pre-sents her skits, Mrs. Emery re-plied, "Well, previous to an ill-ness a few years ago, I appeared at approximately 30 places over a period of four years."

She has traveled to Reading, Philadelphia and Boyertown to put on her programs in churches, service clubs and lodges.

Guests of honor at the tea will include officers of the Montgomery County federation of Woman's clubs. They will be welcomed by the local president, Mrs. A. Erwin Colver.

Mrs. Kenneth Z. Fillman is program chairman, and presiding at the tea table will be Mrs. John W. LeVeille and Mrs. Walton F.

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

Tea at Nurses Home To Mark Teen-aides' First Anniversary

The Teen-aides of Pottstown hospital will observe their first anniversary in the form of a tea tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Nurses home. There will be a three-tier anniversary cake.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Arthur Mann, will give a talk on the new hospital procedures. A model of the cap, which will be awarded to those girls who have served over 100 voluntary hours in the hospital, will be on display tomorrow.

Bitler-Beekley Marriage Takes Place at 2 Today

Rosalie G. Bitler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bitler, Pottstown RD 2, will become the bride of Sgt. F. Leland Beekley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Beekley, Pottstown RD 2, at 2 o'clock today in the Cedarville Roberts, a cousin of the bride, is the flower girl.

The Rev. Charles Truax, pastor, will perform the ceremony.

Maid of honor for Miss Bitler will be Shirley Gummo. LaVerne McCutley and Sally Lou Turner will be the bridesmaids. Marjorie

Preparations Made By Ladies' Auxiliary For Koffee Klatch

A Koffee Klatch will be held by the Ladies' auxiliary of the German club on Oct. 29 at 4 o'clock in the club hall. The Reading Harmonizers will provide music for the affair.

The new president, Mrs. Karl Stahl, appointed committees for the coming year at the Thursday night meeting. They are as follows: tellers, Mae Rotz and Lena Betz; ways and means, Emma Hafer, chairlady; Mae Rotz, Lena Betz, Ruth Yeager, Anne Miller and Kathryn Brandel; gift fund, Rethel Betz, chairlady; Anna Jan-kovsky and Margie Shewchuk; membership, Anna Schmuck, chair-lady; Dolly Swede, Sophie Stier-heim and Irene Lohagen.

Plans were made for a children's Christmas party to be held on Dec. 21; tentative plans were made for the auxiliary to attend a musical show in Reading.

The pig-in-the-box, which was donated by Mildred Stahl, was won by Martha Marquardt. Hostesses for the social hour were Anne Mil-ler, Martha Marquardt, Marian Marquardt and Josephine Pasche-dag.

Hoffman-Kleinsmith Nuptials

Rotate the use of the burners or CANAPES ON TOAST units of your range instead of using any one more than all the others. When through using the oven, leave the door ajar while it cools. This will allow moisture to escape and reduce the tendency to rust. To keep a range in good condition, it is important to keep all parts clean, free from greasy food particles.

Mary Kline, Betty Hildebrand.

If you choose small broiling chickens (two to two-and-one-half pounds) you can cook them in record time. Have the butcher cut the chicken in pieces as he would for frying. Rub the chicken pieces with soft butter or margarine, sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika, and broil—fairly close to the source of heat—for eight to ten minutes on each side.
